Getting to Know Us

John Duncan: Sales Representative

John began working for Terra Dotta as a Sales Representative in January of 2010. He works in client development, delivers software demonstrations, and is a familiar voice in Terra Dotta product webinars. John is personally known by many people in the field through his attendance at multiple International Education conferences each year.

John has worked in international education for seven years. Before joining Terra Dotta, he worked in website sales and as a website product manager for StudyAbroad.com.

John plays rugby, bikes, and coaches soccer. He lives in Havertown, PA with his wife Michelle, and his children Elizabeth, Jack, and Campbell. He enjoys dedicating his free time to his children's activities.

John loves demoing for Terra Dotta because he feels it is the best software product in the international education field. He says that "being able to show Terra Dotta software to offices that are looking for a better way to handle their enrollment processes is awesome."
